Proud Past ~ Fabulous Future
Chairman Linda Jaskowiak, MAFMIC Chairman 2012-2013

Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your Chairman in 2012-2013. It is truly an honor for me. It was really nice seeing so many of you at the convention and I look forward to visiting with you throughout the coming year. When ask if I had a theme picked out a couple of things came to mind. First, one word came to mind almost immediately, FABULOUS.

I love the word, just saying it makes me smile. FABULOUS, just try saying it. We work in a fabulous industry along with fabulous people working toward a fabulous future. Have you looked around at some of the MAFMIC events lately, there is a younger generation out there! We’re depending on you to help move this industry towards a “FABULOUS FUTURE”.

Then the other thought came to mind, remember I said I had 2 thoughts…. We wouldn’t have a FABULOUS industry if it weren’t for the people before us.

That’s where the Proud Past comes in. I’ve been at Sumter Mutual for almost 18 years, let me give you a little history.

George was the President of the board at the time I started at Sumter Mutual. I’m pretty sure you all have had a “George” on your board over the years, if not you’ve missed out. Our George wore bid overalls every day. He was quiet smart. Not college educated smart but common sense smart. He cared for the company and not just a little. He told me it was an honor and a privilege to be a part of Sumter Mutual. As I began my job here I realized very quickly that it wasn’t just George that felt that way. At that time we had 9 board members, all with the same attitude. They worked hard to make sure we did the right things for our policyholders just as the other directors did one hundred years before them…… one hundred years before them, how many companies can say that.

That attitude stuck with me, and as I look around the MAFMIC membership I think that this attitude has stuck with some of you also.

So my theme for the year is: “PROUD PAST ~ FABULOUS FUTURE”
Has San Lake Mutual

Gary Swearingen, Manager

Has San Lake Mutual located in Buffalo, MN began from one of its predecessor companies incorporating in 1867 (San Francisco Mutual) in the State of Minnesota. It formed from the strengths of Hassan Mutual, San Francisco Mutual and Lake Town Mutual merging in 1997. Hassan and Lake Town were formed by German settlers and San Francisco Mutual by Swedish settlers. All of the mutual’s operated under Chapter 67A of the Minnesota Statutes as does the existing company today. Has San Lake Mutual currently writes business in 20 counties in the East Central part of Minnesota. Currently we insure approximately 4,000 policies in Minnesota. Has San Lake Mutual according to Statutes writes fire insurance and additional lines of coverage in 20 counties in east central Minnesota. We currently write coverage in 14 cities of the 2nd class. We write a packaged dwelling owner’s policy and a packaged farm policy with statewide mutual’s. Our current package partners are North Star Mutual, Cottonwood, MN, and RAM Mutual, Esko, MN. The company began writing mostly farm insurance. As our territory borders the Metropolitan area to Southwest, West, North and Northeast and as the population moves into the counties that we write in the next outer ring of the metropolitan area our mix of farm business has become slightly smaller than our dwelling owners business. We do not see a large change in the future as farms get larger and fewer farm sites exist.

Has San Lake Mutual currently has 35 agency partners with a number of those agencies having multiple agency locations. Within those agencies we have about 150 appointed agents. We have a very large and progressive agency force.

We service these agents through a workforce of 5 full time employees and 2 part time employees. One of the top priorities that came out of our strategic and long range planning was to work on establishing Electronic Business. We offer training to all of the agencies in whatever format will work best for them by staff traveling to their offices or their agents participating in scheduled training at our office. We want to be the company that they think of first when they are offering their insurance customer insurance coverage.

Has San Lake Mutual will always strive to be the best company that we can in our segment of the insurance industry. In any decisions that the mutual makes we will always keep our policyholders best interest first. Without our policyholder owners we do not have a company.

We are members of our local chamber of commerce, support the Wright County Fair with advertising, the local Pheasants are Forever, and we a sponsor for the local counties Breakfast on the Farm.

To describe our company in one word, I would use the following word: RESPECTFUL.

1.) Showing consideration for other people and their property
2.) Caring ourselves, family, community and school
3.) Appreciating and accepting individual differences
4.) Treating others the way that your would want to be treated
Congratulations

Helping member mutuals keep promises since 1909
Catastrophe Planning
Karl Porisch, Western Mutual

It was a hot, humid and windy summer day in Southwest Minnesota. Typical weather fare for that time of year, with a cloudless sky and temperatures bumping up against 90 degrees. As the day wore on, the weather channel began predicting the possibility of severe thunderstorms with strong winds, damaging hail, and the possibility of tornados. It was a message that had been heard a number of times before, in summers past, and had the tendency to lull folks into a sense of complacency. Later that night and into the early hours of the next day, there would be at least six tornados in the area, with one of them an F5. As a result of the super cell that spawned the storms, homes were destroyed, farms were leveled, and businesses were forced to close because of the severe damage produced by the storm.

As a new manager in our mutual insurance company I was ill prepared to cope with the damage. Fortunately, we had received little damage to our office, so we could still operate on a very limited basis. We were able to handle the incoming claims notices on the fax machine, and contact both our agents and our insured’s that were affected by the storms. While we managed to cope with the situation, I wondered what would have happened if our office had been destroyed. How would we have performed under those circumstances? Could we have responded in a timely fashion to all the claims without power and access to our computer files? It made me realize that we needed a plan to cope with a similar situation in the future.

Catastrophe planning is not rocket science. It’s more like a shopping list of things that you should think about prior to having an event that could seriously damage your ability to remain a viable business, and making certain arrangements to speed up the recovery process.

So what do you need to do to have a viable catastrophe plan? What follows is kind of a boilerplate approach to the planning process. Each business needs to tailor the plan to their particular circumstance, but many of the areas in the planning process apply to a broad spectrum of businesses. At a bare minimum you should consider the following:

1. If you need to relocate, what amenities will you require?
   a. Office space
   b. Furniture
   c. Telephones
   d. Computers
   e. Office equipment
2. Do you have a list of suitable property available?
3. Do you have current and up to date backups of all your computer data?
4. Do you have a list of the local radio, newspaper or television stations for procedure announcements?
5. Have you contacted neighboring mutual’s asking for assistance?
6. Do you have a list of independent adjusting services?
7. Are your funds adequate for a large catastrophe or do you need to have an established line of credit at a local lending institution?

These and many more areas or your operation need to be addressed in order to have a successful plan in the event of a disaster. The main point here is to start the process now, not when you’ve experienced a disaster caused by a storm, a flood, or a fire.

Legislative Update
Marcus Marsh, MAFMIC, Government Affairs Manager

The 2012 Legislative Session is in full swing. The session started January 24 three weeks later than the 2011 session.

Committee deadlines were set early in anticipation of a April 30 adjournment. The first committee deadline is Friday, March 16 in which a bill has to be out of a policy committee in either the House or Senate. The second committee deadline is Friday, March 23 in which bills have to be out of policy committees in both the House and Senate. The third committee deadline is Friday, March 30 in which bills have to be out of appropriation and finance committees.

The four tort reform bills we were supporting were passed by the House and Senate and sent to the Governor. Governor Dayton vetoed all four bills. It awaits to be seen if there is any further activity on these bills.

By the time this article is read the new re-districting maps for all State House, State Senate and U.S. House Districts will have been released by the State Supreme Court. This is always a big adjustment for Legislators and the public.

The 2012 Congressional Contact Program will be as follows, Monday, May 7 we will have our NAMIC Briefing late afternoon. Tuesday, May 8 we will have our appointments with members of the Minnesota Congressional Delegation and staff. A registration form and hotel information is included in this issue of the LINK.
